Synopsis book

Millions will welcome this joyous event as a flash of color on the long road we have to travel. Sir Winston Churchill on the news of Princess Elizabeth's forthcoming wedding London, 1947: Besieged by the harshest winter in living memory, burdened by onerous shortages and rationing, the people of postwar Britain are enduring lives of quiet desperation despite their nation's recent victory. Among them are Ann Hughes and Miriam Dassin, embroiderers at the famed Mayfair fashion house of Norman Hartnell. Together they forge an unlikely friendship, but their nascent hopes for a brighter future are tested when they are chosen for a once-in-a-lifetime honor: taking part in the creation of Princess Elizabeth's wedding gown. Toronto, 2016: More than half a century later, Heather Mackenzie seeks to unravel the mystery of a set of embroidered flowers, a legacy from her late grandmother. How did her beloved Nan, a woman who never spoke of her old life in Britain, come to possess the priceless

The Gown by Jennifer Robson

The book cover features a black and white photograph of a bride in a long, flowing gown and veil, holding a bouquet of flowers, walking down a stone staircase. A groom in a dark suit and bowler hat is walking beside her. The entire scene is framed by a decorative gold border with ornate corner flourishes.
